Immediate Break With Reds Urged

Michigan Senator Says U. S. Diplomats Are 'Prisoners'

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) called Wednesday for immediate severance of diplomatic relations with Russia and all her satellite nations. "We should break off relations until these Communists learn how to live properly in the free world's family of nations," Ferguson said.

The Michigan lawmaker expressed his views in commenting on the disclosure that the State Department is reviewing the question of whether to close all American embassies in Russian satellite countries.

"We should close them all right, but we should go further and sever all diplomatic relations with the satellite Iron Curtain nations and Russia itself," Ferguson declared.

"WE SHOULD insist that the embassies and consulates all those countries maintain in the United States be shut down immediately," he added.

Senators Sparkman (D-Ala.), Morse (R-Ore.) and H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) said the idea of closing American embassies in the satellite nations merits careful study, but they all advised against any hasty action.

Ferguson said he had concluded "our embassies in Russia and these Red-dominated countries are not functioning as embassies at all in the usual sense."

He said American personnel stationed in those nations "actually are the prisoners of Communism and can't serve effectively in any 'listening post' capacity."

"By closing the embassies and consulates Russia and her satellites have in this country we would get rid of a lot of spies the Communists have sent here. The good that would result from such a move would far outweigh any disadvantage to us."

A Senate subcommittee on internal security reported Tuesday night that an uncontrolled flood of Communist propaganda is pouring into this country, some of it through diplomatic channels, and finding its way into labor unions, universities and other institutions.

Reds Asking Top Parley

High Level Talks After Truce Sought

MUNSAN, Feb. 6.—(AP)—The Communists have proposed a high level political conference within 90 days after a Korean armistice to negotiate withdrawal of foreign troops, settle the Korean problem and resolve related issues in the Orient.

The three-point proposal was made at Panmunjom in the first full dress session of truce negotiations in two months.

Allied delegates made no comment. They took the proposal under study and promised a reply later.

Observers expressed doubt the United Nations Command would agree to the third point.

The Red proposal identified it only as "other questions related to peace in Korea."

But in presenting the proposal, North Korean Gen. Nam Il linked it to a statement by President Truman involving U. S. military aid to Formosa, Indochina and the Philippines.

THE REDS' three-point plan was their outline of principles for recommendations to the governments of countries fighting in Korea. That would be the final clause of an armistice. Two other clauses still are unsettled.

A subcommittee working on exchange of prisoners agreed to inspection of POW camps by joint Red Cross teams of belligerent nations and turned their discussions over to staff officers. Voluntary repatriation is the main unsettled question.

I have a clipping from a San Antonio, Tex. newspaper, telling about Ed E. DeWees, being made president of Boysville, a home for homeless and underprivileged boys, located at San Antonio.

I have known Eddie, as we call him here at the Record-Herald office, since he was a boy and remember when he was one of the carrier boys for the old Daily Herald.

The honor just accorded him was well deserved, and I know Eddie will hold the post with honor to himself and the institution of which he was one of the founders.

Eddie has played an important part in the institution since it was established, so his duties will not be new to him.

Boysville can rest assured of a capable hand at the helm of the institution.

Eddie, who is a son of Mrs. S. F. DeWees, of 513 East Paint Street was formerly past district governor of the Optimist Clubs, and was also president of the San Antonio Optimist Club for a number of years.

Boysville is doing a notable work among the underprivileged and homeless boys, and the citizens of San Antonio are proud of the institution.

Attendance Off In City Schools Because of Flu

County Schools, However, Are Not Seriously Affected

The flu and cold germs have made inroads on attendance in the city schools, but they apparently have left the rural schools in the county system virtually untouched.

This was revealed following reports from Supt. Stephen Brown on the city schools and from the principals and superintendents of the rural schools Wednesday morning.

Supt. Brown said there were 144 absences in the high school and 98 in the elementary schools, but he said these absences should not be considered "alarming."

THE AVERAGE absences for the high school for the past six weeks has been 72 and for the elementary schools 65.

Rose Avenue, with 29 pupils out, has the greatest number of absences of any of the elementary schools. Cherry Hill and Central, with 12 out at each, have the best attendance.

Inclement weather, ideal for colds and flu, has cut the attendance in the city schools to a low figure for about a week, and there are few signs that it will return to normal until the sun comes out or the temperature takes a quick plunge and eliminates the possibility of rain.

Attendance reports from ten of the 14 schools in the county system reveal that there are only 143 absences out of 1,772 pupils enrolled.

ALL BUT ONE of the principals or superintendents of the rural schools reported that the number of absences in their schools was "about normal."

The principal of Jasper school stated: "I noticed a real break today." He said he had eight absentees out of 45 pupils.

The following absences and enrollments were reported from the schools listed: Eber, 24 out of 151; Bloomington, 20 out of 315; Jasper, 8 out of 45; Jeffersonville, 50 out of 485; Madison Mills, 17 out of 245; Marion, 5 out of 77; New (Please turn to Page Two)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—(AP)—President Truman's projected cleanup of his official household was bogged down Wednesday for lack of an operating staff.

As a result it began to look as if a house judiciary subcommittee will get an investigation of its own underway before Republican Newbold Morris can organize his staff to ferret out misdeeds in government. He is a special assistant to Attorney General McGrath.

With obvious disappointment, Morris Tuesday called newsmen to his Justice Department suite to give them the news that Louis E. Yavner, his long-time associate in New York City's "reform" government, would be unable to accept appointment as Morris' "chief of staff" in the forthcoming federal government inquiry.

Yavner, a former New York commissioner of investigation, and now chief aide to City Counsel Rudolph Hall, said it was impossible to serve in the federal investigation because of prior commitments to his firm and to Hall, the former Kefauver Crime Committee general counsel.

Yavner had been counted on by Morris for a quick staff-organizing job and the launching of a general survey of official acts, beginning with those of Attorney General McGrath, who selected Morris for the job.

Expectant Father Hurt During Wait

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Feb. 6.—(AP)—An expectant father fell out of a second-floor hospital window Tuesday only a few minutes before his wife gave birth to a baby girl.

Mother and child, hospital attendants said, were doing fine, but the father—27-year-old Bill Brown—is a patient in the same hospital with a back injury. Brown apparently dozed off while sitting on a window sill in the waiting room.

FORT MEADE, Md., Feb. 6.—(AP)—The Second Army has announced that units of the Ohio National Guard now with the 37th Division at Camp Polk, La., will train next July at Camp Grayling, Mich., and Camp Perry, O.

All units except anti-aircraft units will train July 6-20 at the Michigan camp. The anti-aircraft units will train July 13-27 at Camp Perry.

Business Explanations May Be Given Teachers Under Unique Program

A plan to acquaint the school teachers here with business operations in Washington C. H., today is under serious consideration by the Washington C. H. Chamber of Commerce.

There are still a few things to be smoothed out to pave the way for putting the plan into effect, C. E. McCarley, the Chamber manager, said but he expressed confidence that this would be accomplished.

The first step is to be taken Feb. 18 when representatives of 28 Washington C. H., businesses, school board members and directors of the Chamber sit down to talk over the plan across the dinner table in the Hotel Washington banquet room.

The plan is not untried: It was originated at East Lansing, Mich., three years ago and adopted as an annual event in "hundreds of cities, large and small, across the country," McCarley said. He added that the favorable reaction experienced by these Chambers was a big factor in influencing the Washington C. H. Chamber to consider it seriously.

IT HAS COME to be known as the Business - Industry - Education Program Day (BIE) and briefly opens the doors of the business establishments to the teachers for first-hand observation with explanations of the dollars and cents operations.

McCarley emphasized that "this is not merely a plant or a store (Please turn to Page Seven)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—(AP)—The big question—will President Truman run?—was tossed with but little fanfare Tuesday night when he talked politics briefly with some veterans.

Addressing the Veterans of Foreign Wars' annual congressional dinner in Washington, he touched on the 1952 presidential campaign. With a smile he said: "When the time comes, I am going to try to tell you what the right result is. That is not an announcement."

Other political developments: 1. Sen. Robert Kerr (D-Okla.), in Omaha, consented to allow entry of his name in the Nebraska presidential preference primary April 1, but he wanted it understood "if President Truman runs we'll all be for him."

2. Connecticut Gov. John Davis Lodge joined his brother, Senator Lodge (R-Mass.) in support of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

3. IN OKLAHOMA, the running battle for Republican convention delegates continued between factions booming Eisenhower and Senator Taft (R-Ohio). Thus far, Eisenhower has four of the 16 pledged to him. Another favors him, one favors Taft, another Gen. Douglas MacArthur and still another is uncommitted.

4. Oregon Democrats were wondering how to take Eisenhower's name off their party's primary ballot since he has identified himself as a Republican.

5. SENATOR TAFT, speaking at a Lincoln Day rally in Harrisonburg, Va., attacked the administration's foreign policy, saying it "lost the peace after we won the war."

6. Rep. William H. Harrison (R-Wyo.), addressing the Nebraska Republican pre-primary convention at Omaha, scoffed at the Truman administration's slogan of "Peace, Progress and Prosperity." He said it should be "Poppycock, Plunder and Poverty."

7. In Trenton, N. J., Republican national committee Chairman Guy Gabrielson was reelected a GOP

Ohio Soldier Being Hunted

FRANKFURT, Germany, Feb. 6.—(AP)—U. S. Army agents hunted without success Wednesday for 28-year-old Pvt. Eugene F. Walters of Harrod, Ohio (near Lima), wanted in connection with the kidnapping of Mamie Ruth Shelton.

Walters, absent without leave, is the Army's prime suspect. Until Walters is found, the agents said, the search for the girl's kidnaper is stalemated.

The 18-year-old girl was kidnapped at pistol point Sunday night, driven to a woods and molested but not raped. She is the daughter of an American sergeant stationed here.

The Army said Walters went AWOL with a jeep and a .45 caliber automatic pistol Saturday, the day before.

Mamie Ruth and two young sergeants were en route from Hanau to her Frankfurt home. They picked up a uniformed man hitchhiking along the road. The three said after a time, their guest brandished a pistol and ordered them to stop the car.

HE LED THE two sergeants to a nearby woods, robbed them of $70 and ran back to the car. The girl (Please turn to Page Fourteen)

O'Connor Raps TVA, Seaway Building Jobs

BALTIMORE, Jan. 6.—(AP)—Sen. O'Connor (D-Md.) turned a critical eye on the Tennessee Valley Authority and the proposed St. Lawrence River Seaway Wednesday.

O'Connor announced recently he would not seek reelection because he wanted to be free to criticize those policies of the national administration with which he disagreed.

He said TVA has replaced "in whole or in part" 31 investor-owned power companies in the area and "continues to expand its monopoly."

"Here is an example of the all-powerful U. S. government invading a field which was being developed progressively in the American way," he said.

O'Connor said the proposed St. Lawrence Seaway "would require an imprudent and wasteful diversion of materials, men and money from other uses which are truly essential to our defense effort." He added: "Far from being self-liquidating, the real prospect is that its annual cost would many times exceed any possible maximum toll revenues."

Herbert Decides To Enter Primary

COLUMBUS, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Former Governor Thomas J. Herbert of Cleveland said Wednesday he will make it a three-way race for the Republican nomination for governor in the May 6 primary.

Herbert thus changed his mind. He said only a short time ago that he was not interested in running again. Already in the race are Charles P. Taft of Cincinnati and State Sen. Roscoe R. Walcott of Columbus. Gov. Frank J. Lausche is the only candidate filed for the Democratic nomination.

Dear VA: Harold Very Much Alive

ISLAND TREES, N. Y., Feb. 6.—(AP)—Mrs. Ruth Bogen read the letter from the Veterans Administration, then glanced at her husband drinking his breakfast coffee.

Then it suggested she fill out the enclosed forms to claim his $10,000 VA life insurance. Mrs. Bogen, 26, sat right down to write VA officials that her 27-year-old husband is very much alive, thank you, and was busy on his bakery truck delivery route.

'He Was a Good Man'

Death Comes Quietly To Sleeping Monarch

LONDON, Feb. 6.—(AP)—England's King George VI died Wednesday after 15 years on the throne.

George VI—the steady sort of monarch the Britons love—died in his sleep at Sandringham, the Royal estate in Norfolk where he was born 56 years ago.

All over Britain the people said: "He was a good man."

The King and his Queen Elizabeth, with their two pretty daughters, Elizabeth and Margaret Rose, had won the hearts of Britain by their steadfast refusal to seek safety abroad in World War II.

It is believed that a blood clot—coronary thrombosis—was the immediate cause of the King's death. Last September, a surgeon removed one of his lungs as cancerous, and the King had looked ill for a long time. But even his immediate family did not know death was so near.

WEeping CROWDS gathered at Buckingham Palace as word of the King's death spread. Flags were lowered to half staff. The nation's radios went silent except for news bulletins.

Unwillingly, George VI became king by a whim of the fates—when Edward VIII—now the Duke of Windsor—abdicated rather than give up the love of an American "Commoner," Mrs. Wallis Simpson.

The monarch led Britain through her worst ordeal when the island kingdom faced the victory-flushed German armies alone. His words of comfort, his prayers, his encouragement, helped Britons meet and turn back the foe's blitzkrieg.

With his prime minister, Winston Churchill, King George will be long remembered for his part in "Britain's finest hour."

Word of the death came from Sandringham Palace at 5:45 a. m., EST. The British Broadcasting (Please turn to Page Fourteen)

2 Ag Aides Are Fired

Grain Shortage Probe Continuing

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Secretary Brannan Wednesday fired the director and assistant director of the Agriculture Department's commodity office in Dallas, in connection with current investigations of shortages of government grain.

The discharges, of Director Latham White and Assistant Director James Solomon, become effective at the close of business Friday. They have been off duty since late in December, pending a department investigation.

A department spokesman said the men were removed from their jobs for "administrative deficiencies and inadequacies."

The government has taken legal action to collect about $4.8 million from 15 shortage firms in connection with reported shortages of grains and other products stored under price support programs.

In addition, the government has gone to court to recover $177,000 from firms which, it says, failed to deliver grains of the grade the government bought from them for an overseas supply program.

Furthermore, legal action is being considered in connection with 12 other cases of shortages. The amounts involved have not been determined.

POSSIBLE shortages in 29 other elevators and warehouses are being investigated to determine whether it will be necessary to refer them to U. S. attorneys for action.

The Justice Department said its criminal division was looking into at least two or three cases.

The 29 cases being investigated are located as follows: Colorado, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, North Carolina, and Oklahoma, one each; Texas, 12; Missouri, Nebraska and New Mexico, two each; and Ohio four.

Princess Is Returning To London

New Monarch, 25, Gets Sad News While On East Africa Tour

LONDON, Feb. 6.—(AP)—While Great Britain bowed in mourning for the death of its king, George VI, the empire awaited the return of its new queen—Elizabeth.

The princess, who had been on a tour of Africa and the lands "down under" with her husband, Philip, is scheduled to arrive here about noon (EST) Thursday.

She will arrive by plane after a 17-hour flight from East Africa. She now is making the first part of the journey—a 100 mile trip by auto to Nairobi, Kenya Colony, where she had been staying.

In Nairobi, she and the royal party are to board a four-engine plane that will bring them back to England.

Elizabeth's elevation to the throne brings Britain its first reigning queen since Victoria died 51 years ago.

AND THE COMING to the throne of serious gray-eyed Elizabeth revived a mild superstition—that Britain waxes fat and prosperous with a woman's reign.

The belief grew out of the founding of an empire by another Queen Elizabeth 350 years ago, and its rich expansion under Victoria in the 19th century.

Elizabeth was marked as a future reigning queen when she was only 10 and her father became King. It changed the whole course of her upbringing, from that of a relatively carefree child to one laden with the prospective responsibilities of reigning over a world-girdling empire.

On her 21st birthday, she dedicated her life to looking after the welfare of that empire.

Two events had changed her life from that of a playful daughter of the shy Duke of York.

One was the decision of her uncle, Edward VIII, to quit the throne so he could marry an American, Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson, who was unacceptable to the Church of England because she had been married twice previously. His abdication made her father King on Dec. 11, 1936, and made her the heiress apparent to the throne.

THE OTHER event had been the birth of her sister, Princess Margaret, only other child of King George and his Queen. Had this child been a boy, he would immediately have taken her place in line of succession.

Word of her father's death reached the new queen in an African colony, one of the remnants of the empire.

She sobbed as she received the news and then made plans for her immediate return to London.

News of the death was first given to her staff in the royal lodge by the newspaper East African Standard, published in Nairobi, Kenya.

'It was decided to withhold the news from the princess until direct confirmation was obtained by telephone from Buckingham Palace.

Later the message was received direct at the royal lodge and the princess was told. She broke down and sobbed.

Now Britain has her first queen in 51 years. The last was Queen (Please turn to Page Two)

Ohio Lass Held By Florida Police

TAMPA, Fla., Feb. 6.—(AP)—A girl identified by Sheriff Hugh Culbreath's office as Sandra Charvat, 16, of Berea, O., is being held in a juvenile home here pending her return home.

The sheriff's office picked up the girl on a tip from Ohio authorities. The matron at the juvenile home said the girl talked with her mother by telephone Tuesday and would be sent home, probably Wednesday.

Charge Is Changed In Municipal Court

Chester C. Brown, 55, city, entered a plea of not guilty to a charge of drunken driving and was fined $50 and costs and his license suspended for two months when the charge was changed to reckless driving Wednesday morning in municipal court.

Witnesses called to testify in the court included officers Albert Fryant, Charles Foster and Harley Haggard, Chief Vaiden Long and Ted Warner.

Brown was represented by Charles Hire, attorney.

Houston Dunklin, 24, Addyston, was fined $20 and costs when he was cited into court on a charge of reckless operation.

William A. Thurner, 19, Cincinnati, forfeited $20 when he failed to appear on a reckless operation charge.

King George Dies

Victoria, who ruled from 1838 to 1901. And Britons believe firmly that the country waxes prosperous under a woman's reign.

THE HEIR to the throne will be Charles, the three-year-old son of Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh. He is destined someday to become Prince of Wales.

The new Queen's husband, the handsome, 30-year-old Duke of Edinburgh, may receive a new title in due course. There is a precedent—Queen Victoria's husband, Prince Albert, had the title of Prince Consort.

Prime Minister Churchill called an emergency meeting of the cabinet to set in motion the machinery which will lead to Elizabeth's formal taking of the throne.

ONE OF HER first duties will be to set a period of mourning for the court. When her grandfather, George V, died, court mourning was ordered for nine months.

George V's queen, Mary, at 84, has outlived both her husband and her youngest son.

It was at Sandringham that George V died, Jan. 21, 1936. Then Edward VIII was king for a few months. The dead king at that time was Duke of York. He became king Dec. 11, 1936, when Edward gave up the throne for "the woman I love," the twice-divorced Mrs. Wallis Simpson.

The new Queen's accession to the throne will be proclaimed in an ancient ceremony at old St. James Palace in London.

The Garter King of Arms, chief of the king's heralds, clad in his brilliantly embroidered medieval costume, will climb to the roof of the palace and read the official announcement.

This ceremony, however, must await the drafting of the official proclamation announcing the death of the King and the accession of the new ruler.

Queen Elizabeth's first constitutional duty will be to hold an accession meeting of the Privy Council, an ancient body which advises the King. It is composed largely of nobles and leading political figures.

AT THIS accession meeting, the new sovereign will swear to fulfill her duties and be a good ruler of Britain. The oath will be administered by the Lord Chancellor, the nation's highest law lord. Then "lords of the Privy Council" swear to accept the new monarch "as their lawful, rightful liege lord."

The council meeting also must agree on the wording of the proclamation announcing the accession of the new Queen. This is the proclamation that will be read from St. James Palace.

The same proclamation will be read at three other places in London—at Charing Cross in the center of the city; Temple Bar, which marks the boundary between the old city of London and Westminster, and on the steps of the Royal Exchange, in the heart of the old city.

Extensive shipbuilding activities have been resumed in the port of Leghorn, Italy.

Cleveland Lad Fails To Get Trip To Italy

CLEVELAND, Feb. 6.—Joseph Vanadia, 14, was right back where he started from in Cleveland Wednesday after five months spent in an unsuccessful attempt to hit Uncle Sam for a free ride to Italy.

He wanted to see his father and tried to get himself deported, but the farthest he got was Ellis Island.

After he hung around piers in New York, saying he was a stow-away from Italy, immigration officials picked him up. But after keeping him five months on the island, the officials found he had given them a phony name. Later he admitted the ruse and was sent back to Cleveland without punishment.

His mother is a native of Cleveland who was taken to Italy when she was seven. Married and with four children, she returned to the United States in 1948. Her husband, Giacomo, hopes to come here as soon as his turn comes up on immigration quotas.

Typists Stuck With Ordinary $16.80 Chairs

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Air Force typists will have to sit in the same kind of chairs as other government employees. Special super-plush seats are out. Furthermore, the Air Force has been advised to confine its scientific research to airplanes.

A House Armed Services Subcommittee said that the testing of chairs should be left to the Government Services Administration whose chairs have been "fairly well researched" and proven satisfactory.

The subcommittee said the Air Force has been testing chairs for 60 days. As a result it sought to pay more than half a million dollars for 20,156 upholstered chairs for use at Wright Field, Ohio.

Chairs sought by the Air Force would cost $28 each instead of the $16.80 paid for GSA-selected chairs.

"How silly does a person have to get in order to get rid of $200,000?" commented Chairman Herbert (D-La.). That's how much he figured the special chairs would cost over GSA chairs.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—The House Armed Services Committee Wednesday approved a compulsory Universal Military Training bill.

After serving six months, the trainees would be liable for reserve duty for seven and one-half years.

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6 — (P)—Here are some reminders on what to do, and what to watch out for, if you're making your 1951 income tax return on Form 1040-A or the 1040 short form.

1. If husband and wife make a joint return, both must sign it.
2. Be sure when you hand in your return that you attach to it all the receipts—Form W-2—given you by a boss as proof of what he paid you and how much tax he withheld from you last year.

3. Be careful, under item No. 1 on both forms, to claim all the exemptions to which you're entitled. For each you knock $600 off your income before what's left is taxable.

EVERYONE filing a return gets a $600 exemption for himself, another $600 if he's blind, and still another $600 if he's 65. That would give a 65-year-old blind man a total of $1,800 in exemptions.

If your wife had no income and you alone file a return—or if she did or didn't have income but files jointly with you—you get a $600 exemption for her, another $600 if she's blind, plus another $600 if she's 65.

But for a dependent—a wife is never considered a dependent—you get only one $600 exemption and nothing extra if he's blind or 65.

Note: If your wife had any income at all, no matter how small, you get no exemption for her unless she files jointly with you. If she files separately she claims her exemption on her return.

4. Remember that Form 1040-A and the 1040 short form can be used only for reporting income under $5,000. If you're reporting more income than that, you can't use either of those two forms. You must use the 1040 long form where you figure your own tax.

Any under-$5,000 person can use the 1040 short form where you find your tax in the table on the back. But if you're under $5,000 you can use Form 1040-A only if—

FULL TAX was withheld from your 1951 income except for no more than $100 in untaxed wages, interest or dividends. If you don't fit that rule—most wage-earners do—but are under $5,000, you can use the 1040 short form.

5. Everyone using 1040-A or the short form automatically gets a deduction for personal expenses, of about 10 per cent. He gets it automatically. He doesn't have to claim it or itemize it. It's allowed for in the table used to figure the tax on people using those forms.

If your income was under $5,000 but your deductible expenses were more than 10 per cent, then use the 1040 long form where you'll have to itemize but can claim your deductions in full.

Some points on Form 1040-A—You do no figuring. Answer the questions. You pay no money when you turn it in, even though you think you owe tax. The collector will figure the tax for you.

If too much tax was withheld from you during the year, he'll give you a refund. If he finds you still owe tax, he'll notify you. You get 30 days after that notification to pay the tax.

If you file jointly on Form 1040-A with your wife, the collector will figure your tax both ways to see whether it's cheaper for you to file jointly or separately. He'll give you the benefit of what he finds.

Now take the 1040 shortform—When you use the table on Page 4 to find your tax pay close attention to those columns which show the tax based on (1) your income and (2) the number of exemptions claimed on your return.

SAY THE Joneses, with two children, had a total income of $4,835, of which his wife had earned $35 sewing. If the Joneses file jointly, they claim four exemptions: Their own two and one each for their children.

On the line showing income from $4,800 to $4,850 Jones looks across to the column showing the tax on people with four exemptions. It shows—since his $4,835 is between $4,800 and $4,850—that the tax on him and his wife is $396.

But, since Mrs. Jones' income was less than $600, she doesn't have to file a return at all, separately or jointly with Jones. But, since she had some income, even though only $35, he can't claim an exemption for her unless she files jointly with him.

Say she doesn't file jointly. That leaves him only three exemptions, for himself and the two children. And his income, minus her $35, is $4,800. He looks across that same line as before, the one showing the tax on $4,800-$4,850 income.

But this time he looks under the column for a married man with three exemptions—filing separately—and finds his tax is $530, or $134 more than when he and his wife filed jointly, claiming four exemptions.

If you're a self-employed person using the 1040 short form, note line No. 5 (B) on Page 1, where it says to list your Social Security tax, if you're self-employed.

This year several million self-employed people pay a Social Security tax on their self-employment income for 1951. The tax is 2½ per cent on the first $3,600 of that income.

IF YOU'RE in this group, list the amount of your Social Security tax on Line 5 (B) and pay it, when you file the income tax return, together with any income tax you owe.

Besides using Form 1040 for their income tax return, the self-employed must also use a separate form, Schedule C, where they provide information necessary for determining their Social Security Tax.

Many people file on the 1040 short form must use not only Page 1 but Page 2, also, because of their special income and problems. Because they find their tax in the table on Page 4, they don't use Page 3 which is strictly for those figuring their own tax.

New 3-year Scout Program Is To Be Launched in Capital

President Truman, members of Congress, governors and national representatives of organizations and institutions throughout America that sponsor Boy Scout units, will share in ceremonies during Boy Scout Week, Feb. 6 to 12, launching a new three-year program known as "Forward, On Liberty's Team." Boy Scout Week marks the 42nd birthday of the organization.

Twelve outstanding Eagle Scouts, chosen to represent the more than 2,900,000 members of the organization, will share in ceremonies at the White House when President Truman greets them at 12:45 P. M. on Friday, Feb. 8. Mr. Truman, as Honorary President of the Boy Scouts of America, is to receive a scroll stating the broad objectives of the new program.

At a breakfast in Washington with nearly 100 leaders from the cabinet, the Senate, House of Representatives and national organizations, the 12 picked Eagle Scouts will dramatize Scouting's part in meeting the problems of these times. The Scouts will tell what the entire membership of the organization will do next Fall in their major activity of getting out the vote in the national elections.

THEY WILL ALSO report on what Scouts have been doing in Civil Defense, conservation and their flood services last summer.

Following the visit to the White House Feb. 8, the Scout party will go to Independence Hall in Philadelphia. At this national shrine, in the presence of national representatives of organizations and institutions throughout America who sponsor Scout units, ceremonies will be held to dramatize the part played by the churches and synagogues, schools, civic and community organizations in supporting and extending Scouting throughout America.

The program at Independence Hall will include the Scouts' "re-affirmation of the principles of the Declaration of Independence and the broad goals of Scouting" emphasizing the need to achieve the goals of a three-year program to accelerate and improve the whole Scouting program.

Physical fitness is considered basic to effective citizenship in war of peace. The three-year program re-emphasizes clean living, outdoor activities and preparedness for daily living. The Scouts will strengthen the use of its patrol system in order to train boys for citizenship in a democracy. This gives boys the experience of living cooperatively with each other.

SCOUT OFFICIALS sense a need for more citizens who can stand on their feet and think for themselves. More rugged outdoor experiences are planned which develop initiative and self-reliance.

Since Scouts have always been trained to "Be Prepared" to render service in critical situations, their emergency service program will be broadened in the next three years. Their training in Civil Defense will also be stepped up.

The 12 Eagle Scouts will be the guests at West Point, N. Y., the next day, Feb. 9, and take part in ceremonies in recognition of the Military Academy's 150th anniversary. They will attend church services on Scout Sunday, Feb. 10. The final day of their trip, Monday, Feb. 11, will give them a sightseeing tour of New York, a visit to the newly completed United Nations headquarters and participation in a 42nd birthday party at the National Office of the Boy Scouts of America in New York.

Council-manager Plan Getting More Popular

NEW YORK, (P)—Seventy-three communities and counties adopted the council-manager form of government in 1951, the National Municipal League has announced.

The plan was in effect or soon to be in 1,078 places. Largest city to adopt the plan last year was San Antonio, Tex., where the voters approved it by a 2-to-1 majority.

Two states have permitted their cities to adopt the council-manager plan, the league reported. Rhode Island did so by a constitutional amendment and Illinois by an enabling act of the state legislature.

Germany Is Searched For 'Leg Ambassadors'

FRANKFURT, Germany (P)—A high intelligence rating, shapely legs and good looks are the essential requirements for a new kind of German diplomat who will soon tour foreign countries.

The selection program is now underway in 20 big cities to choose "Germany's most charming stock-in-wearers" who are to represent a leading Wuertemberg hosiery company as roving "leg-ambassadors".

It's the same firm which discovered last year, after surveying 50,000 hausfraus and frauleins, that German women average bigger feet, thicker calves and fatter thighs than before the war.

Free-wheeling Hot Rod Even Invades House

WYMORE, Neb., (P)—Chet McPherson was almost run down by the free wheeling of a "hot rod" automobile—while sitting in a chair inside his own house.

The stripped-down auto gave up one of its wheels, sent it rolling toward the house, over a two-and-a-half foot porch railing and through a 16-inch-wide panel window.

The wheel came to rest by a chair McPherson was occupying. Glass from the window sprayed the startled McPherson, but he was only scratched.

Stephen Foster, who popularized Florida's Suwannee River in song, never saw it.

League of Women Voters Starts Something

"Know Ohio Constitution Week," proclaimed by Gov. Lausche for this period, Feb. 3-9, is significant for one thing; that is the need for a study of our state constitution if there is to be a constitutional convention in Ohio at some future date. It is then that questions of changes in the constitution may be officially prepared and presented.

Right now newspapers and other publications, the radio and television, are presenting many arguments pro and con regarding such a convention.

Does Ohio's constitution need changes? Many say that it does because of new conditions arising in civic life. Others insist that the constitution should be let alone because it supposedly covers only basic principles and is broad enough to provide for any legislative changes in law which are necessary.

An effort is being made to bring about a study of this whole question by the Fayette County organization of the League of Women Voters.

Obviously it would be a good idea

Then and Now

The United States was the first country in the history of civilization founded for the preservation of individual freedom. In establishing the 'New Order of the Ages,' the Continental Congress recorded in the Declaration of Independence a list of grievances against the tyrannical King George III, among which were: "He has erected a multitude of new offices, and sent hither swarms of officers to harass our people, and eat out their substance."

One hundred and seventy-five years later we find a swarming bureaucracy within our borders that threatens individual freedom.

for any or all Ohio citizens to know more about the state's constitution and whether there is apparent some need for changing it.

For this reason the efforts by the League of Women Voters here have merit.

It will be interesting to see how many people in Fayette County are willing to take this matter up seriously enough to give it real study or attend meetings for such discussion.

We hope the women who are taking the lead in this effort for such a study obtain the results which they hope for in the way of public interest.

Tribute To Boy Scouts

We are happy to add our tribute to the Boy Scouts of this community and of America.

Today's Record-Herald carries many expressions of commendation for this organization. They come from business and professional men and from organizations. All recognize in the Boy Scouts a movement which means training boys in self reliance, good citizenship and leadership.

Few boys who ever belonged to the Scouts forget some of the lessons learned through that organization. The whole atmosphere surrounding the Boy Scout movement is wholesome and healthy.

Many a youth might have become a street loiterer and a juvenile delinquent if at some time he had not received the salutary effects of being numbered among the Boy Scouts.

Anything this community can do to help the movement and anything any individual citizen can do to advance it, should come gladly and with sincere willingness.

From Paratrooper To Skypilot--

By Hal Boyle

PURCELLVILLE, Va. (AP)—John Baird Shinberger made 13 parachute jumps as a pioneer organizer of the American Army's Paratroop Corps.

But it was while he lay badly wounded on a Belgian battlefield in 1944 that he made the biggest jump in his eventful life—a decision to become a "sky pilot."

A German mortar had burst in red ruin a moment before. It killed one man and wounded five others, including Lt. Col. Shinberger, a 35-year-old battalion commander.

The steel fragments mangled one of his arms, opened an artery in the other. As he lay there with his life flowing from him, a young West Point graduate felt he would die. And he experienced a deep regret. He had always in his heart of hearts wanted to be a minister and preach the Lord's Gospel. Now he never could.

"Shinberger lifted his eyes and made a compact with heaven."

"Lord," he prayed, "if you let me get off this battlefield in one piece, I'll work for you the rest of my life as a Christian soldier to the best of my ability. I won't put it off anymore. I'll become a minister, whether I'm good or not."

He survived, although he spent more than five months in hospitals. As soon as he was well, he set about carrying out his pledge.

It took courage for him to turn his back on his brilliant professional military career. But Shinberger had spiritual fortitude to match his physical bravery. He retired from the Army and enrolled as a student in the Virginia Theological Seminary.

Today he is rector of three small Episcopal churches in the Virginia dairy country. Both he and his pretty wife, Lisa—they have four children—are happy in his new calling.

The ex-paratrooper, still in rugged trim at 43, is a popular pastor. People of all denominations come to him to talk over their personal troubles. They like his sensible, down-to-earth manner.

But Shinberger himself is still humble uncertain whether he is—as he says—"a good preacher."

He talked about it as we sat in his study, where hang pictures of his two great heroes—Robert E. Lee and Stonewall Jackson, who was a deeply religious military leader.

"Ever since I was a kid," he said, "I wanted to be a clergyman. But I didn't feel I was worthy enough. So I just kept procrastinating."

He feels his Army training has helped him in his new work.

"But sometimes I'd like to get the coordination you find in the Army in order to get people to put their principles more into their daily living," he said. "Too many are satisfied just to have the preacher baptize them, marry them and bury them."

Leaving the Army to enter the ministry doesn't seem as unusual to him as it does to others.

"During West Point's first hundred years about 45 per cent of its graduates became clergymen," he smiled. "In fact so many did that they had an investigation into it."

Position of Douglas MacArthur

By George Sokolsky

The fact is that in many parts of the United States a notable grass-roots movement has appeared for "MacArthur for president." In some places, the support for the candidacy of General Douglas MacArthur is stronger than that for any other candidate.

To all who have inquired of him concerning this, General MacArthur has replied that he is not a candidate and that of those who are currently in the field, he favors Senator Robert A. Taft.

It has been suggested by some that General MacArthur assert that he would not under any circumstances be a candidate. It is not in the nature of General MacArthur to presume what he would do in circumstances of which he currently has no knowledge. However, it is apparent in all conversations that he is sincere in his lack of aspiration for the post and in his support of Taft.

In his letter withdrawing his name from the New Hampshire primaries, General MacArthur makes his position quite clear:

"In reflecting upon my own responsibility of citizenship, I have felt that I could contribute infinitely more to the high purposes involved if not personally seeking the political office through the entry or use of my name in connection with any state primary."

But in that same letter, he goes further to define the type of president whom he would prefer. This paragraph, it would seem to me, might form a model for candidates of all parties this year or any other year. I quote:

"Every American citizen shares equally the constitutional responsibility of doing all in his power to restore and preserve our sacred American free institutions and to secure a reorientation of policy patterned to serve our impelling national needs and requirements. To this high purpose the immediate demand upon the citizen lies in the selection of a national leadership of demonstrated capability in the science of civil government of unimpeachable dedication to our country's constitutional precepts and great traditions, and one whose wisdom is founded upon broad administrative experience, with the moral courage to face and resolve the public issues of the day without compromise of principle."

General MacArthur is a literary stylist and uses words to express rather than to repress thought. Thus the use of the phrase, "restore . . . our sacred American free institutions," clearly means that they have been damaged. It is an overt assertion that the Roosevelt and Truman administrations have failed in the maintenance of a basic American philosophy.

Similarly, his phrase, "a national leadership of demonstrated capability in the science of civil government," excludes General Dwight Eisenhower, who has never had anything to do with civil government in this country. It comes as close to a direct attack on Eisenhower's candidacy as MacArthur has yet made. Senator Tobey correctly caught the fitness of this idea as applied to General Eisenhower.

I am certain that this statement is only laying a basis for similar and more pointed attacks, ending in the use of General Eisenhower's name, although General MacArthur is reticent about starting a five-star general's battle as part of a political campaign. He relieved General Eisenhower when the latter was a junior officer associated with him in the Philippines. He will not discuss that or Eisenhower's activities in connection with the bonus march, for which Herbert Hoover and MacArthur have had to accept full credit or discredit, whichever it may be.

Further, the use of the phrase, "without compromise of principle," is General MacArthur's way of attacking "me-tooism," particularly in relation to the foreign policy. Before this campaign is over, the meeting at the president's office on April 6, 1951, on the subject of the dismissal of General MacArthur, will have to be discussed openly. The question will have to be considered as to who was there, what was said, and why General MacArthur was dismissed. This is still a closed book and the general has never been told precisely why he was dismissed.

In this connection, "The Freeman" magazine is now issuing a supplement entitled "Prelude to Disaster," dealing with the dismissal of General Douglas MacArthur, which I prepared from the record of the Russell committee reports. This establishes beyond doubt that the joint chiefs of staff agreed to MacArthur's program for handling the Korean war.

The political position of General Douglas MacArthur cannot be ignored, as it now has the support of large segments of the Republican party and influences large numbers of Democrats. What it will amount to in delegates and votes has, of course, yet to be seen.

Diet and Health Removal of Tonsils Is Not Just Routine

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

"When should our child have his tonsils out?" This is one of the most frequent and important questions a physician has to answer concerning children's health.

Tonsils and adenoids should not be removed at all, unless there is a definite indication, such as an infection, that this should be done. The removal of tonsils, in particular, should not be considered a routine health measure.

Best Age for Removal

When there is evidence of definite infection, the best age, according to many physicians, to have the tonsils removed (tonsillectomy) is in the fifth or sixth year, if it is possible to wait until then.

Neither tonsils nor adenoids should ever be removed while the patient has a cold or other infection.

The tonsils and adenoids, it is believed, protect an infant while he is building up his resistance to infections. A newborn child inherits from his mother certain defenses against disease, but rapidly loses them. It takes him some time to build up his own resistance by reacting to infections in his environment.

Function of Lymph Tissue

Tonsils and adenoids are made of lymph tissue. A principal function of this type of tissue is to localize and combat infections throughout the body. The tonsils and adenoids have a strategic spot in this defense system—the throat and back of the nose, which is exposed and extremely vulnerable to infection.

It has been noted that many children who have had their tonsils removed have later suffered from lung infections and bronchitis. Some authorities believe that these disorders may be due to destroying this barrier against infection.

Certain Conditions

In spite of the fact that the lymph tissue at this point is so important in fighting infection, from time to time we find certain conditions which require the removal of the tonsils or adenoids, or both.

As a result of recurring infections, tonsils and adenoids grow in size and fail to return to normal. One of the most urgent indications for removing them is seen when these enlarged growths actually interfere with breathing or swallowing. Adenoids may also impair hearing by blocking the tubes that lead from the middle ear to the nasal portion of the throat.

Other serious conditions arise when these growths continue to harbor infections which may become active when the body resistance is low. It is necessary to remove the tonsils when chronic infections bring recurring attacks of tonsillitis or abscesses of the tonsils. Chronic sinus infection, due to oversized or infected adenoids, also calls for removal of these growths.

Many doctors believe that chronic tonsil infection may cause certain kidney, heart, and rheumatic diseases. Tonsillectomy may therefore be indicated in these conditions, but only if the tonsils are definitely infected.

The doctor will decide in each case whether or not the tonsils should be removed and, if removal is necessary, when the tonsillectomy should be performed.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

W. B.: Does one ever rid himself of amebic dysentery?

Answer: Although sometimes difficult to cure, amebic dysentery may be eradicated with rigid treatment.

Cub Scouting University Is All Set for Sunday

Many Phases Of Program To Be Discussed

Details of a Cub Scouting University, which will be held next Sunday in Greenfield, were released today by Ray Graft, field Scout executive for Highland and Fayette counties.

Parents, Cub Scout leaders and other interested persons are invited to attend the university, which will include sessions pertaining to Cub Scouting and which will last from 2:30 P. M. until 5:30 P. M. Those who plan to attend the "university" will be registered at the First Methodist Church in Greenfield prior to the opening sessions. A Blue and Gold dinner will be held in the First Methodist Church at 6 P. M.

DURING THE OPENING sessions in the afternoon, which will start at 2:30 o'clock, the following subjects will be discussed: "Fundamentals and What Cub Scouting Is," "Program Planning," "The Den Meeting," and "The Achievement Plan."

Beginning at 4 P. M. the following subjects will be discussed in separate sessions: "The Den Meeting Place," "The Pack Meeting," "Den Mother and Den Chief Relationship."

The instructors of the session on "Fundamentals and What Cub Scouting Is" are Raymond Blazer and Fred Narcross of Greenfield. The purpose of the training is to give a brief presentation of the Boy Scout movement and how it works.

IT PRESENTS a clear picture of what Cub Scouting is, how it works, its policies and procedures. To many fathers and "mothers" this session will be their first introduction to the Scout program. The session is designed for all Cub Scout leaders, parents and, in a limited way, for the members of institutions or organizations interested in a younger boy program. This session is one required of all adult Cub Scout leaders for basic training credit, and in all probability, one of the first to take.

The instructor of the session on "Program Planning" is Kenneth Chaney of Washington C. H. It includes an explanation of the theme plan, the responsibilities of all leaders in connection with program planning and an explanation of the three steps to use in program planning.

Some of the important items which will be discussed in this session are as follows: (1) Realize the importance of planning (2) Variety is the spice of any program (3) The theme in program planning and (4) The program planning procedure, including the annual planning conference, monthly pack leaders and the weekly den chief's meeting.

Men and women who are directly interested or related to developing a program planning for boys and girls' youth movements or organizations will want to take advantage of this experience.

"THE DEN MEETING" session will be taught by Charles Ridgeway of Highland. The purpose of the training experience will be to give all leaders a thorough understanding of how to conduct den meetings. It is filled with activities and program ideas.

This experience deals with the program of Cub Scouting and how and what Cub Scouts do in den meetings with den mothers. The section will be helpful to improve all present den meetings, and will help the parents understand what Cub Scouts receive in their respective dens.

The session on "The Achievement Plan" is designed to give a clear understanding of the entire field of Cub Scout advancement, including the parents' part in handling achievement and suggested ceremonies for recognition.

The session will show how every parent can help do work for their sons and help their sons advance.

IN THE SESSION on "The Den Meeting Place" the relationship between den spirit and the physical facilities of the den meeting place will be discussed. The session will show den mothers how to make the most out of the facilities which are available. There are suggestions on methods of converting farm homes as well as city homes into attractive meeting places. Den mothers of Bloomingburg will have charge of this session.

Meredith Hakes of Greenfield will have charge of the session on "The Pack Meeting" and he will explain the various phases of a pack meeting, the purpose of the meeting and the ways in which leaders and parents can help to

Boy Scouts in County To Remember Religion During Their Observance

Boy Scouts of Fayette County will be living up to their Twelfth Scout Law, "A Scout is Reverent", when they attend morning worship in some church this Sunday.

Each Cub, Boy Scout and Explorer Scout will be expected to attend either the church of his choice, or the church in his community designated for group attendance, on Scout Sunday.

It is hoped that each Scout will wear his uniform to the service, but if he has no uniform this should not prevent his joining his group in worship, leaders say.

In Washington C. H., the Scouts have been invited to attend morning worship at the First Christian Church, corner North and Temple streets, at 10:30 A. M. as a group. Rev. Don McMillin, the pastor, has announced as his subject, "We are God's Fellow-Workers," for this service.

Scouts in Jeffersonville will attend morning worship at the Methodist Church, where the pastor, Rev. Forrest Moon, will lead them in worship.

BLOOMINGBURG SCOUTS have attended services at both the Methodist and Presbyterian churches in their community the past two Sundays as part of their "Youth Week" observance, and they are planning to be present again on Scout Sunday.

Boys in Cub Pack 49 in the Waterloo neighborhood are planning to attend the service at the Waterloo Christian Union Church as a group.

The newly organized Troop 170 at Good Hope will attend the Good Hope Methodist Church, where they will receive special recognition. Their membership cards will be presented to them during this service. Rev. Eugene Frazer is the pastor.

It has been discovered that most Scouts in Fayette County participate regularly in the program of some church. Many are regular make the meetings successful.

Subordinate topics which will be discussed include: "What Is the Purpose of a Pack Meeting?" "What's the General Procedure of a Pack Meeting?" "The Cub Scout Meeting," "The Parents' Meeting" and "The Combined Meeting."

MRS. JOHN MCKILLIP of Jeffersonville will discuss the subject, "Den Mother, Den Chief Relationship." The session will provide answers to the following questions: "Why Have a Den Chief?" "How Much Can I Expect of My Den Chief?" "How Can I Develop the Right Kind of Relationship With Him?" "What Does the Den Chief Need from Me?" and "How Is a Den Chief Recruited?" In addition to information on the den mother and den chief relationships the session will include special activities and projects.

Emery Lynch of Washington C. H. will lead the session on "Pack Administration." The training experience is designed to show the cubmaster and other administrative leaders of the pack how to organize the efforts of all the leaders in the job of running a pack. It shows the relationship of the cubmaster to all other leaders and includes discussions on the details of a pack operation. The experience shows how each pack committee member can carry out his responsibility to insure a more successful cub pack.

Push For Dan Cupid Creates Town Debate

BUCKSPORT, Me., Feb. 6.—Civic groups here want to help Dan Cupid push laggard celibates toward the altar.

They've arranged a "bachelors' ball" in the high school gymnasium Feb. 19, but have aroused controversy in this town of 2,000.

Only 61 residents got married last year and Banker Ernest E. Baker said Monday night:

"This is not a good situation for the bachelors, the bachelor girls, or for the economy of the town."

"Married couples are the ones who buy and build homes. If we can increase home ownership by raising the marriage rate everyone will benefit."

But Town Manager L. W. O'Connor frowns on the proposal.

"It's all right to promote marriages," he said, "but marriage leads to children and that means building more schools at the taxpayers' expense."

Minister Given Lifetime Pass

ALLIANCE, Feb. 6 — The Rev. Paul Ryser, a youthful pastor from Cadiz, has been given a lifetime pass to all Mount Union College athletic events.

The school sent the pass after the pastor wrote he got into a 1946 football game for 50 cents less by posing as a student. He wanted to pay back $1. Such honesty, says Athletic Director Nelson M. Jones, was worth a lifetime pass.

Business Explanation

tour of inspection . . . if it turns out to be that, it will be a failure."

He went on to explain that the plan calls for a small group of teachers being taken through all of the intricacies of the business routine by someone familiar with it.

The primary purpose, he said, was to show the teachers just what makes a business function, where the money for its operation comes from and where it goes. It is to show, too, some of the problems that are confronted every day and how they are solved.

Because BIE day is a day-long event that would take the teachers out of the class rooms, it would be necessary to dismiss the schools. That is where the school board members come in—they would have to give their sanction for that.

McCABLEY SAID that a BIE day program had been under study and investigation by the Washington C. H. Chamber for nearly two years.

Because it is new here, he declared, planning for it would have to start from scratch. But, that planning, he added, would not be grouping in the darkness of inexperience; for, two representatives from the Dayton Chamber of Commerce staff, a BIE program there have agreed to come to the Feb. 18 dinner here and explain the plan from the ground up.

Letters already have gone out to 26 businesses here and to the school board members. McCabley said he and the Chamber directors hoped for a 100 percent response.

That meeting could either be the start of the BIE program here or it could kill or delay it indefinitely, he said.

If the decision is to go ahead with the BIE program here, it might be held this spring or it might be deferred until fall, McCabley said. But it was considered possible that if the BIE day plans gets the green light, the date might be set, at least tentatively, at the Feb. 18 meeting.

Farm Changes In County Are Bared in Talk

70-year Progress
Traced for Rotary
By County Agent

"I have only praise for the farm folks who in the past decade have increased agricultural output nearly 50 percent, with the same sized plant and nearly 20 percent fewer workers."

Enlarging on this statement in an address covering agricultural accomplishments in the nation as a whole and with a large array of data covering Fayette County in particular, W. W. Montgomery, county agricultural agent, spoke before Rotarians and guests Tuesday at the Country Club.

Montgomery was introduced by Harry Silcott, former county chairman of the County Production and Marketing Administration. He paid a number of compliments to the county agent who, he said, came here more than a quarter of a century ago and pioneered successfully in a field of work which faced difficulties and opposition because of the necessity of "making a go" of the comparatively new idea of having a paid agent aid agricultural development in the county.

Calling attention to the fact that the farmers of this nation are now being asked to turn out the largest total production in their history, Montgomery produced several pages of statistics, based on state and federal reports, to show what Fayette County had produced, and other information, covering several past decades up to the past year.

SOME FEW pieces of the information brought out during his talk from the data prepared showed:

That in 413-mile square Fayette County covering 264,320 acres, 252,503 acres were classed as farm land in 1950 and that crops were harvested from 160,190 acres; that the number of farms has decreased from 1,957 in 1880 to 1,362 in 1950; that the average size of the farms has risen from 127 acres in 1880 to 185 acres in 1950; that in that same 70-year period the average value per farm had climbed from $5,642 to $30,072; that the per acre value had gone from $44.43 to $160.29 and that the rural population had decreased from 16,666 to 10,211.

For most of these changes, Montgomery gave the explanations and the causes.

DURING THE BUSINESS session of the club Hugh Wilson who has been the club's student guest for the past two weeks, made a brief talk expressing his thanks for the opportunity afforded him.

Birthday greetings were sung for C. E. Rhoad, William Himmelsbach and Fred Rost, each of whom made the customary contribution to the club's youth recreation fund.

The club members' attention again was called to the Rotary Ann dinner party at the Country Club on Wednesday, Feb. 13, at 6:30 at the Country Club. The program for this occasion is being furnished by the Rotary Ann and is reported being prepared in the nature of a clever surprise. There will be no Rotary Club meeting next Tuesday.

Among the guests at Tuesday's Rotary meeting were two persons identified with County Agent Montgomery in his work in this county. They were Albert G. Cobb, associate county agent and Mrs. Norma Campbell, home demonstration agent.

Hopefuls Start Collecting States For Their Race for White House

By JOHN SEMBOWER

(Central Press Correspondent)
WASHINGTON—The 1952 presidential election season opens officially in January with the same old ground rules, despite all the clamor after the 1948 balloting for a modification of the electoral college system.

Wisconsin will provide the kick-off with its new Jan. 15 deadline for candidates to file in its preferential primary. Fifteen other states also provide trial heats for White House aspirants before the national political conventions.

The amendment offered by Senator Henry Cabot Lodge (R), Massachusetts, to substitute a system geared more closely with the total popular vote than the electoral college, which the founding fathers adopted in a pious hope to place the choice of President in the hands of a selected group of well-qualified citizens, appears dead as a dodo.

MOST OF the steam went out of it when analyses showed that it would not have changed more than two elections in the last hundred years—Samuel J. Tilden would have won over Rutherford B. Hayes in 1876 and Gen. Hancock over Gen. James A. Garfield in 1880—although it would have landed William Jennings Bryan in a virtual tie with William McKinley and precipitated Lincoln's 1860 election into Congress for final determination.

Obviously happy over not having to master a new set of rules, the leaders of the candidacies already under way are busily engaged in the old familiar game of collecting states for their hopefuls.

The only new thing that has been added since 1948 is the Twenty-Second Amendment of the United States Constitution, which bars third term bids but does not apply to the incumbent Harry S. Truman.

WISCONSIN, where Wendell Willkie stubbed his toe in 1944, may have no takers for its prefer-

THE FIGHT for the GOP nomination already shapes up as a four-way battle. Senator Taft is rapidly building on his core strength in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, and his headquarters here refuses to concede any state at this point.

Although Eisenhower remains enigmatic, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York and Senator James Duff of Pennsylvania are busily marshalling support to augment the formidable chunk of 166 convention votes they hope to deliver.

Kansas, the general's home state, is the chief outrigger to the Eisenhower craft at the moment.

If it is Taft vs. Eisenhower, the dopesters now figure that the outcome may turn on 16 key states: Alabama, California, Georgia, Kansas, Minnesota, Nebraska, Nevada, North Carolina, Oregon, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Texas, Washington, West Virginia, Wyoming and Wisconsin.

Adding their share of complications are the two favorite sons already in the field—Gov. Earl Warren of California and the former Minnesota governor, President Harold E. Stassen of the University of Pennsylvania, by their own announcements, and Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll of New Jersey, who is

The Dayton Power and Light Company Annual Report reveals strength and stability, gives assurance of continued growth

Throughout the 24 counties served by The Dayton Power and Light Company, the problems of the postwar years have been successfully met.

By the end of 1951 construction restrictions resulting from World War II had been overcome. New territories acquired in 1945 and 1948 had been integrated. These accomplishments, each a major achievement, offer examples of what the American team of labor, capital and management can do in abnormal times.

The five-year postwar expansion program (1946-1950) cost $75,227,000. The second five-year program, now under boomed by his followers as a logical compromise if a deadlock develops.

Trouble brews in the Democratic camp. Gov. James E. Byrnes of South Carolina, a former Truman intimate, and Senator Harry Byrd of Virginia, are keeping the Dixiecrats alive and kicking.

Senator Karl E. Mundt of South Dakota has launched an attempted GOP conservative-south coalition, and at Memphis a nonpartisan committee for victory has been organized by business and civic leaders, led by Roane Waring, former national commander of the American Legion.

Consequently, it continues to be a jig-saw puzzle of states, and the 60,000,000 of an eligible 97,000,000 voters who are expected to vote are beginning to make up their minds.

Scout Program for Character

Believing that the fundational need in America and in the world today, is character, the Boy Scouts of America will launch its new three-year program known as "Forward... On Liberty's Team" during Boy Scout Week, Feb. 6 to 12, the organization's 42nd birthday.

The nation's 735,000 adult volunteer Scout leaders involving more than 80,000 Scouting units see the new program as a challenge that the youth of America may have available a program of character development so they may be trained, "on their honor, to do their duty to God and their duty to their country."

Pointing out that in a few years,

America will have nearly fifteen million boys of Scouting age, Dr. Arthur A. Schuck, chief scout executive of the Boy Scouts of America, said in a Boy Scout Week message that "everyone of them represents an opportunity as they march from youth to manhood."

SCOUTING'S challenge says the chief Scout executive, is training "our youth in character, in qualities of citizenship and unselfish service."

"Many Americans," he says, "believe in our ability to make the Scout oath and law and the Scout program vital factors in helping to preserve American Democracy, through men who are 'physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight'."

"Today's challenge," he warns, "is fast running out. More boys must have the best leadership, the best program and the best in spiritual ideals."

"The fundamental requirements for the kind of democracy of which I speak is character in the individual citizen. There is nothing wrong with America that character cannot change. That change can be effected in one generation, with proper character training for youth."

The Boy Scouts of America, Dr.

Schuck feels has a great job to do to help develop "a body politic which, because of its character, will not be indifferent to the responsibility of voting, but will consider their right to vote as a great privilege, that must be intelligently exercised, if government of the people is to prevail."

Dr. Schuck announced that the nation's Boy Scouts now numbering more than 2,900,000 boys and leaders, will take part in the campaign to Get Out the Vote in the presidential elections this fall. It will be, he said, "a non-partisan effort, without reference to any candidate or party."

Scouts To Show Appreciation To Sponsoring Organizations

The nation's 2,900,000 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Explorers and their adult leaders will observe Boy Scout Week, Feb. 6 to 12, marking the 42nd birthday of their organization by giving the nation a unique birthday present.

The Boy Scouts of America will launch a new three-year program known as "Forward... On Liberty's Team," a program of action designed to help keep America strong and free.

The Boy Scout birthday will be observed throughout the United States, its territories and wherever American families live, either in service in the Armed Forces, or as representatives of the Government and business.

This year's celebration will honor the organizations and institutions whose sponsorship make possible the existence and growth of the nation's 80,298 Packs, Troops and Explorer Units.

AT PUBLIC ceremonies, the Scouts and leaders will express their appreciation to the religious bodies, school organizations, veterans' associations, fraternal groups and service clubs which sponsor them.

The units will then review all the ways in which the sponsoring institution has helped the unit as a whole as well as the individuals in it. The Scout Units will announce the goals of their three-year program to help achieve the goals of the "Forward... On Liberty's Team" program, which is to make the boy, the Scout Movement and the Nation — physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight.

Observed in every city and town and most villages and hamlets by more than 80,000 units, Boy Scout Week is the largest single birthday observance by young Americans.

The Boy Scouts of America was incorporated at Washington, D. C. on Feb. 8, 1910. Traditionally, on that day, the members recommit themselves to the Scout Oath or Promise at 8:15 P. M., in the four time zones.

BOY SCOUT Sunday will be observed Feb. 10 in thousands of churches with Scouts and leaders attending services in uniform. Those of Jewish faith will hold their observances in synagogues and temples Friday evening and Saturday, Feb. 8 and 9.

During Boy Scout Week it has also become a tradition for units to be hosts to friends and parents at "open house" meetings and show some of the skills they acquire through the game of Scouting. These birthday week Scout parties provide fun, songs, games and stunts for the Scouts and their guests.

Many store windows and building lobbies are loaned to Scouts who put on "live expositions" where the public can see how Scouts train for Civil Defense or Emergency Service. The conservation of the nation's resources — an important activity these days — has long been a principal activity of

THE BOY SCOUTS will urge the people of America to exercise their franchise and go to the polls and vote. They will place on the door knobs of over 30,000,000 American homes a cardboard hanger in the form of a Liberty Bell with the slogan of the new three-year program, "Forward... On Liberty's Team" and the injunction for every citizen to vote.

The Scout program is a great help to the American home, Dr. Schuck feels. "There is no substitute," he says, "for the character training of children in a God-worshipping home where family love, honesty of performance, integrity of conduct, honor and unselfishness are taught and lived."

The home, he said, needs supplemental help.

"I think of Cub Scouting as a great supplement reaching into approximately 800,000 homes. I see father, mother and youngster building a program together having fun, having enjoyment, helping the boy, but just as important, helping to build and maintain the American home of character."

"What is true of Cub Scouting," he added, "is likewise true of Boy Scouting and Exploring."

Poet's Corner

GOD WITH US
"The world is in an awful mess," I heard some people say; Theoric made the same remark. One thousand years away, The prophet Jeremiah, too, Proclaimed with fiery breath, "The land is morally decayed And stricken unto death."

Regus, an Augustinian monk, Spat in the dust and said, "The curse of God is on the earth. The souls of men are dead;" It has been said in every age, Just as we hear it now, "The world is going to the dogs As fast as it knows how."

But, just when things are at the worst And headin' straight for doom, The sun comes out and dissipates The labyrinthian gloom; The curse of war has always been We hate it and abhor, But God, alone, has power to will That it shall be no more.

God with us, and our Cause be just, The clouds will flee away; Altho' we tread a cruel path, He'll send a brighter day; He always has, He always will, And truly, I believe Instead of going to the dogs, We'll greater things achieve.

Wrong-way Reading Not Unusual Habit

LINCOLN, Neb. — Are you one of those library browsers who picks up a book or magazine and leaf through it—from back to front? If you are, you're not alone.

Frank A. Lundy, director of the University of Nebraska libraries, says a surprising number of people do it.

Lundy says he used to try to figure out what was wrong with people who look through books and magazines backwards. "And then," he explains, "I found myself doing it and so I decided that the trouble could be with the publications and not the readers."

Lundy wonders if some enterprising publisher might not do well to produce a book or magazine whose beginning is where the end usually is.

Fly-Swatter Description 4 Inches Thick

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6 — Specifications for the military fly-swatter weigh two and a half pounds and are approximately four inches thick, a House subcommittee was told Tuesday.

And there's the case of the dog toenail clippers four pages of specifications, single-spaced, with two additional pages of pictures. In the last four years, the services have bought exactly 19 of these clippers.

There's also the case of the sugar bowl top. Investigators found the Army rejected a manufacturer's bid because the bowl's "profile is flat in appearance" and was one and a half inches high instead of one and three fourth inches.

These were some of the instances of military procurement practices being assembled by a House executive expenditures subcommittee investigating armed services buying habits.

Post Office Needs More Parking Room

The big trucks, used in hauling the mail since the B&O trains were withdrawn several weeks ago, are unable to turn properly on the limited concrete parking area back of the Post Office building.

As a result the grassplot at the south side of the parking area has been cut to pieces where the heavy wheels of the trucks have run over the edge of the concrete into the soft earth.

To accommodate the big trucks and the other equipment parked in the lot, it will be necessary to extend the concrete paving many feet to the south and possibly to the east.

Eastside Cub Scout Activities Increase

CUB SCOUTS AT EASTSIDE who are in Pack No. 20, sponsored by the Eastside PTA, gather around a table at the school to work on the numerous projects which they have undertaken. Some are working on model boats and planes; others on scrapbooks, leathercraft etc. The Cub Pack program at Eastside recently took on added impetus when two new dens were formed. (Record-Herald Photo)

Cub scouting at Eastside School is an active program in character building which is attracting an increasing number of boys.

Two new dens were formed at the Eastside School recently, and leaders have been chosen who will run the program, which is sponsored at Eastside by the Parent Teachers Association.

Youths who are eight, nine and 10 years of age are busily engaged in working on such projects as model airplanes, leathercraft and handicrafts of various types.

Once each week the dens meet with their den mothers, who encourage the youths to be active in a program which eventually leads to Boy Scout troops, camping expeditions and the more difficult examinations for advancements along the road of scouting. Several of the cubs in the new dens already have their uniforms, but lack of uniforms does not in any way diminish their enthusiasm.

Heading Cub Pack No. 20 at Eastside is Richard Steen. His assistant cubmaster is Bob Morehouse.

OTIS CORE is the chairman of the Cub Pack committee. Other leaders are: advancement chairman, Edward Stewart; program chairman, Vincent Lee; outdoorman, Paul Rodenfels; secretary, Mrs. Emory Lucas and treasurer, Mrs. Herb Plymire.

Den mothers are as follows: den one, Mrs. Lewis Walker, den mother, and Mrs. Henry Ziegler, assistant; den two, den mother, Mrs. Paul Rodenfels, and assistant, Mrs. Curt Koons; den three, den mother, Mrs. Richard Steen, and den four, den mother, Mrs. Marvin Crosswhite.

Koons, Marvin Lucas, Gene Mohr, Tom Rodenfels, Jack Sheppard and Marvel Stewart.

Den three—Michael Chakeres, Charles Hargrave, Steve Herbert, James Meyers, Fred Morehouse and Billy Steen, and den four—Wendell Crosswhite, Pete Evans, Aaron Foster, Edward Lee, Howard Lee, Anthony Striblin, Larry Striblin and Gilbert Thomas.

Her Second Fall Cures Paralysis

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Feb. 6.—Betty Postema, who six years ago thought she would never walk again, is now out of her wheelchair.

"The pretty 22-year-old had been paralyzed from the waist down from a fall. Then, last April she fell again and landed on her spine. Betty said "life just seemed to flow into my legs." Surgeons said the second tumble apparently freed adhesions.

Code for Better Living Found in Scout Oath; Bolsters Moral Fiber

In these days when the evidence points to a widespread weakening of the American moral fiber, with major crimes climbing faster even than the increase in population, it is encouraging to note that a great moral force in America is growing even stronger.

The Boy Scouts of America celebrates its 42nd birthday during Boy Scout Week, February 6 through 12. It is an occasion when we can pause and consider its mark on the youth of the nation. Since 1910, more than 19,000,000 American boys and men have been influenced by this Scout Oath:

"On my honor I will do my best—To do my duty to God and my country, and to obey the Scout Law.

To help other people at all times. To keep myself physically strong, mentally awake, and morally straight."

FOR ITS YOUNG men members, known as Explorers, the Boy Scouts of America has this dedication pledge, which could well be adopted by all Americans:

"I will live the Scout Oath and Law. I will be familiar with the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution, and the Bill of Rights of the United States of America. I will respect and obey the law in order to have security and freedom.

"I will share the responsibility of my home, school, church, neighborhood, and community; and when legally of age, I will register and vote in all elections. I will deal fairly and kindly with my fellow-citizens of whatever race or creed, in the spirit of the Scout Law and America's tradition of equality of opportunity.

"I will work to preserve our American heritage of liberty and responsibility. I acknowledge that the privileges we enjoy were won by the hard work, and sacrifices, faith and clear thinking of our forefathers. I will do all in my power to pass on a better America to the next generation."

Today over 2,900,000 boys and men are actively enrolled in over 80,000 different units. Scouting is indeed a great asset to the nation. May it continue to succeed in influencing lives of countless more boys as you go "Forward... On Liberty's Team."

Razete Refused Freedom On Bond

CINCINNATI, Feb. 6.—Lawrence A. Razete, accused of trying to get government contracts by illegal means, cannot go free on bond, pending disposition of his appeal, the U. S. court of appeals has ruled.

Razete, head of the Cincinnati Raytronics Co., was sentenced to three years in prison and fined $2,000 when found guilty of conspiring to bribe a civilian purchasing department employee of Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton.

Lions Swamp Hillsboro in Revenge

Fast Breaks And Set Plays Bring Victory

A sick, but happy bunch of Washington C. H. High School Lions swamped the Hillsboro Indians, 60 to 41, on the WHS court Tuesday evening.

This win not only evened the score with the Indians, who have been the only team in the SCO League to beat the Lions, but the victory also places the Lions in a first place tie with Greenfield in the league.

Three of the starting Lions were somewhat weakened with the flu, but they, along with the rest of the team, put on drive after drive to maintain the lead all through the game.

After the Indians drew first blood, the Lions roared back to lead at the end of the quarter, 11 to 8. At halftime, the Lions held a 33 to 20 lead and the Indians were ready to fold their tents.

THE END OF The third frame found the Lions holding on to a 10-point lead. With long shots by Dawson, Rettig and Crosswhite, and short ones by Alkire and Whitely, the margin was extended to 19 points by the end of the game.

Every Lion on the bench saw action, and all of them filled their slots in fine fashion. Fast breaks and set plays were clicking, but the Lions showed some weakness in the free throw line—they connected for only eight of their 25 chances. The Indians hit 13 of their 30 free opportunities.

Bud Dawson led the Lion scoring with 17 tallies followed by Jack Rettig with 15 points. "Long John" Jackson, Hillsboro mainstay, led the game scoring with 20 points.

The most spectacular incident of the game came just before the buzzer ended the game when Dave Crone, who had just gone into the game, swished one through from beyond the middle of the floor.

The Lion Reserves, employing a new type of zone defense, won over the Hillsboro Reserves, 36 to 23, in the opener.

A couple of WHS Reserve starters were also out of action with flu. They included center Max Schlichter and guard Dick Tracey.

The host Reserves were able to hold the Indian Reserves to four points in the opening frame and it wasn't until the final quarter, when most of the Lion Reserve subs were in, that the Indians were able to hold the Lion scoring down.

Lou Rymkus At 31 Too Old To Play

CLEVELAND, Feb. 6 — (AP)—John Sandusky, a 25-year-old Villanova graduate, appears a likely replacement for Lou Rymkus, offensive tackle who has ended his professional football career with the Cleveland Browns.

Rymkus, after six years with the Browns, announced Tuesday he had accepted a job as line coach at Indiana University under Bernie Crummins, a teammate at Notre Dame. He said he had decided that at 31 years he was getting too old for the rugged pro game.

Jeff's Tigers Lose In Plattsburg Game

A whirlwind finish that was good for 24 points in the last period was too much for Jeffersonville's Tigers—and they came away from Plattsburg Tuesday night on the short end of a 61 to 48 score in their basketball game.

The Tiger cagers more than held their own against the Plattsburg outfit for three periods, but could not withstand the pressure by the home boys in the stretch drive.

The big floor and shortage of Tiger reserves were largely responsible for the faltering of the Tigers in the final period. They were just worn out after having moved into a 40-37 lead after three periods of ding-dong play.

The Plattsburg coach held back many of his first stringers until the Tigers began to tire, fans at the game theorized, and then sent them in for the attack on the weary Tigers.

Cornell and McFarland sparked the Jeffersonville offense with 13 points apiece as they moved to the firing line with their mates passing in to them.

Although the game was not especially rough, it was cluttered up with 56 foul shots. The Tigers made 16 out of 37 attempts and the Plattsburg boys connected for 9 out of 19.

In the preliminary, the Plattsburg Reserves won 55 to 35.

The Tigers next game will be with Bloomington's Bulldogs Friday night. It could well determine the county championship and, it is understood Bloomington officials are considering trying to shift it from Jeffersonville to Good Hope's neutral floor.

It was originally scheduled for Jeffersonville, but was postponed because of snow and ice. The other game—which the Tigers won, 53 to 52—was scheduled as the Bloomington home game but was played at Jeffersonville because Bloomington's new gym is not completed.

Carpentier Sees Boxing Decline

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 6 — (AP)—The level of boxing technique in both Europe and the United States is lower now than in his time, Georges Carpentier believes.

Carpentier, European heavyweight boxing king some 30 years ago, was known as one of the ring's finest boxers.

"The boxer has been replaced by the puncher who can knock out his rival with one blow," said the Frenchman on a visit here.

Harness horses raced for 94 purses worth $10,000 or more in 1951. This was 13 more than during the 1950 season.

Chillicothe Beaten By Good Hope Team

Good Hope's basketball took an 8-6 lead in the first period and were never headed as they romped to a 56 to 48 victory over the boys from Chillicothe Central Catholic on the Good Hope floor Tuesday night.

Had the Mad Anthonys been able to do better than 8 out of 16 shots from the foul line the margin would have been still wider.

Both teams resorted to a zone defense most of the time, but the Chillicotheans could not stop the drive-in shots of Baird and Bush, each of whom got six fielders. A couple of Baird's were bunny shots from a fast break.

Bettendorf of Chillicothe, however, was the game's high scorer with nine field goals and two free throws in his total of 20 points.

The Good Hope's Reserves took the Reserve game, 20 to 15. The Good Hope outfit is booked for a game at Frankfort Friday night.

Letters To Editor

Washington C. H., Ohio
February 4, 1952

Editor
The Record-Herald
Dear Sir:

I have been reading in the paper about the squabble about Washington C. H. and the county schools.

Yesterday, I read in your paper that you wrote about it, saying this: "Why should the county schools administrators defend illegal conduct and criticize the Washington C. H. board when it insists on recognition of the law?"

Sure, I believe in it, who doesn't? I'm sure the county schools do, too. But have you stopped to think, do they have a right to say something they can't prove?

And another thing, there were as many Washington C. H. children there as county schools.

No, they were not supposed to be in the dressing rooms. But were they?

Has anyone of you ever heard the county schools criticize the Washington C. H. board?

There was a line in that letter saying: Are basketball players permitted to smoke or do the basketball coaches do all of it?

Maybe there are some boys on the teams that smoke. I'll bet every basketball team has one boy that does. Yes, even Washington C. H.

Do you honestly think a boy playing basketball would smoke during a game? No, I don't think so. They could be kicked off if they got caught. Do you think anybody would take a risk like that?

And about the coaches; did any one ever see any of them smoke during a game?

Why say things you can't prove. Anybody could have gone in that dressing room. It might even be someone in your own crowd.

That letter sounds like the county schools are not willing to take care of other people's property. I'm sure they would treat it like their own.

Be honest, folks. Do you blame the county schools for wanting the tournament somewhere else?

I wonder how the teachers, coaches and students feel? How would you feel?

They probably think that Washington C. H. considers themselves just a little bit better than the county schools. That's how I feel. Yes, it is an American way for everyone and each group to have its own responsibility. And, I'm sure Washington C. H. is not the only group.

I think the county schools are a respectable group. And if you doubt my word, why don't you visit them. Especially their basketball teams. They play and try to do their best to play a good game. I think they deserve a kind word. If you ask them about the dressing rooms, they would probably tell you the truth. Good or bad, why should anyone criticize them.

They don't criticize your team, school or coach. Don't throw all the blame their way. They would not you.

(signed)
Maxine Delay

(Editor's note: Two other letters concerning the transfer of the county high school basketball tournament to Mt. Sterling have been received. One supported the county school position; the other supported the stand of the city schools in the contract offered for the use of the gymnasium. Neither was signed, so they had to be tossed into the wastebasket).

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Five Inducted Into Club Here

Lions Minstrel
Plans Are Outlined

Five men were inducted into the Washington C. H. Lions Club in ceremonies held Tuesday night at the Country Club.

Those taken in as members and their sponsors were as follows: Dale Smith—Don Gibson; Will Braun—Tom Mark; Harold Armbrust—Dick Patton; Dr. Joseph M. Herbert—Neil Helfrich; and Richard Barger—Ray French.

Each sponsor presented the member in his charge with their pins after they were introduced by Wayne Bower, membership chairman.

Gibson, who is the zone chairman for 13-C, gave a talk to the candidates and made some announcements. He said that April 6 a committee from the club would inspect road signs.

C. R. Griffiths, who is the chairman of the minstrel plans, asked all the chairmen of the minstrel committees to be present Sunday afternoon for a practice session. The Lions Minstrel will be held at 8 P. M., Feb. 26 in the high school auditorium.

Gibson said the next zone meeting will be held in Jeffersonville Feb. 19.

Gene McLean reported that there are 23 teams entered in the bowling tournament, which will be held later this month.

still was sitting in the machine and the man drove away with her.

The girl said the kidnaper took her to a woods and ordered her to undress. She said he sat beside her for a half hour.

Then he left her in the car, threatening to kill her if she tried to get out. She shivered in a blanket in the auto until morning. Then she got out and sought help.

Army agents said the girl's two companions—Sgt. John H. Ford of Odessa, Tex., and Sgt. Herbert L. Evans of Roxboro, N. C.,—described the kidnaper.

The agents said it tallied with that of Walters—but not "100 per cent" so.

The trail to the kidnaper ended at Frankfurt railroad station. A man in American uniform hired a German taxi in a nearby village, was taken to Frankfurt railway station and disappeared.

Mamie Ruth went back to her high school classes at the Frankfurt Army post Wednesday.

Hill Files Petition In Ohio Senate Race

Winston W. Hill, Washington C. H. attorney and city manager-solicitor for more than five years, filed his petitions for Republican nomination for state senator at Xenia Wednesday.

Unless a surprise candidate for the nomination files, it will be a race between Hill and Lowell Fess of Yellow Springs.

So far as known, there are no Democratic aspirants.

Both Hill and Fess are seeking the seat in the Ohio Senate which has been occupied by Sen. Albert L. Daniels of Greenfield. Sen. Daniels passed up the Senate race this year to make a run for the sixth Ohio district seat in Congress.

Although Hill has been unusually busy with his law practice and city affairs ever since he took out his petitions for the Republican senatorial nomination, he has said he plans a vigorous campaign before the May primary. He explained that he feels it is the duty of every candidate, whether for his party's nomination at the primary election or as the candidate for the office at the general election, to let the voters know his views and what he stands for. Only if a candidate does that, he said, can the voters make their choice on a practical basis.

Induction Is Held By Good Hope Grange

Variety marked the Tuesday night meeting of the Good Hope Grange in Grange Hall.

It was opened with the customary ritual under the direction of the master, Orville Weidinger, and then swung into the business session.

Although the March of Dimes ended last month, the Grange voted to make a $5 contribution.

The charter was draped with appropriate services in memory of Mrs. Gladys Wilson.

One of the highlights of the meeting was the induction into membership of Ronald Hurless. All four degrees were administered, the first two under the leadership of Locie Eckle and the third and fourth by Mrs. Everett Rife.

The lecture program was on the Saint Valentine theme. Mrs. Eckle gave a talk on the origin of St. Valentine's day.

Also on the program was a vocal duet by two girls in elementary school, June Overly and Jeanie Dunn. They sang "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" and "Slow Poke."

Refreshments were served during the social hour that brought the meeting to a close. On the committee were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Braden, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bakenhester, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Braden, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Current, Mr. and Mrs. Don Britton and Mr. and Mrs. Everett Baird.

The next meeting, which is to be a potluck supper in charge of the home economics committee, is scheduled for 6:30 P. M. on March 4.

At 40 miles above the earth the temperature reaches 170 degrees above zero, says the National Geographic Society.

Don Gibson has only one more pound to lose in his competition with Bob Terhune to reduce 25 pounds by Feb. 22.

Gibson, who weighed 248 when started Jan. 2, tipped the scales at 224 at the regular weekly weigh-in Wednesday morning in the Commercial Printing Department in the Record-Herald plant.

Terhune, who started with a hefty 286 pounds, is now down to 266—a loss of two pounds in the last week that brought him to within 5 pounds of his goal, still a little more than two weeks to go.

Terhune had to weigh in a little ahead of Gibson Wednesday, because he is substituting as a teacher at Madison Mills High School. This is the first time the two have not come in together to balance the scales.

TERHUNE IS taking the place of Mrs. Delmar Mowery this week on the Madison Mills faculty to teach biology, history and girls physical education. Teaching is not new to Terhune; he started out as a teacher and coach when he finished college and has substituted at both frequently to help out since he gave up the education profession to take up farming.

Gibson and Terhune agreed at the start of the contest that if either or both failed to cut off 25 pounds by Feb. 22, the penalty would be a tap dance in public at the Lions Club minstrel three days later.

So confident are they now that they will reach the goal, that neither is brushing up on tap dance steps.

They have been reducing under the supervision of their physicians, almost entirely through careful diet of green salads and vegetables and lean meat. Terhune, the bigger of the two, has been doing a lot of calisthenics and planned exercise in addition to hard work on the farm.

After a short business meeting the members were served refreshments.

Car and Truck In Minor Wreck

Minor damage resulted to a Studebaker car driven by Eula E. Fall, 58, Springfield, about 11:55 A. M. Tuesday, when it was involved in an accident with a tractor and trailer outfit driven by Eugene Heironimus, 63, Jeffersonville, at the corner of North and Temple streets.

City police reported that the accident occurred when the truck attempted to turn onto North Street and struck the car, which was attempting to turn onto the same street.

Noise is a series of waves that is either very brief or very irregular in frequency and intensity.

Death Comes Quietly

Corp. announced it at 11:16 a. m. Newspaper extras hit the streets within a few minutes.

The ailing monarch was scheduled to leave March 11 on a health cruise to South Africa. Counsellors of state, to have been appointed before his departure, would have taken over all royal functions except the power to dissolve Parliament and to create peers. Such counsellors are appointed whenever a ruler becomes incapacitated, as during the period after King George's lung operation last year.

MUCH OF THE responsibility for the state funeral of King George will rest on the shoulders of the 43-year-old Duke of Norfolk, hereditary marshal of England.

The new heir apparent to the throne, Prince Charles, was at Sandringham when George VI died. There also was his little sister, Princess Anne, now second in the line of succession.

The King showed no hint of approaching death when he bade goodnight to his queen and Princess Margaret Rose.

'Youth for Christ' Plans Are Laid at Christian Church

The "Youth for Christ" movement at the First Christian Church today was taking form.

The Youth Council, which is spearheading the movement, laid out its plans at a meeting at the home of the pastor, Rev. Don McMillin and Mrs. McMillin.

They call for a program the last evening of each month; but the details for these are yet to be worked out.

Chairmen of committees which are to develop the different phases of the movement were named at that meeting, too. The general chairman is Janice East; the song leader is Carolyn Merritt; Fred Belles is to direct the group arranging the programs; public relations is under Mary Jane Pollard; the roundup is to be supervised by Shirley Carter and Colleen Hille; the pastor chairman is Elaine Evans; Charles Cox is the head usher; the calling is to be directed by Iona Casper and Francheon Sanders; banners Ann Dews and Shirley Hickman.

After the business meeting, there was a social hour at which there was an informal discussion of the plans during the serving of a light lunch by Mrs. McMillin, assisted by Mrs. Marjorie Belles and Mrs. Thur Campbell.

The next business meeting is scheduled for Feb. 17 at 4 P. M. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Belles.
